Totally agree with the decision that was made by administrative law judge Coren D. Wong and Dr. Chann. I've suffered from Neuro Conigenic Syncope for years now. Since my early twenties. I didn't know it was something that would be with me the rest of my life. I'm very uncomfortable most of the time because I can pass out at any given time. It has been a real challenge adjusting to the life style. I'm no longer able to work or perform simple tasks as driving a car, walking, bikeriding ect. The worst part for me is sometime I hurt myself when I pass out. I've lost teeth and I've scared up my face to where it is permanant damage. When I'm around people I have to explain my condition to them some are not receptive to the idea it can get depressing.

Sincerely

Stephanie R Robert
