

Navigating the Climate Transition: Finding Investment Success in a Climate-Risked World

Summary of Discussion

Mindy Lubber, CEO and President of the sustainability nonprofit Ceres, and a founding member of the global steering committee for Climate Action 100+ and The Investor Agenda, will be interviewed by Peter Cashion, CalPERS' Managing Investment Director of Sustainable Investments. The interview will highlight Mindy's recent Forbes article, Largest U.S. Pension Fund To Invest \$100 Billion In Climate Solutions By 2030, that assesses CalPERS' refreshed Net Zero Plan and its Sustainable Investments Strategy. The interview will dive into the significance of investing in climate solutions as well as the benefits of deep engagement and holding portfolio companies accountable and aligning with global momentum. The discussion will also reflect on the conclusions from COP 28 and the significance of the recent commitments, along with the implications for a global asset owner like CalPERS.
