INTRODUCTION

This publication contains samples of legal documents that are used in California state courts to divide the community property of a member's CalPERS retirement benefits between individuals who are dissolving a marriage or legal domestic partnership. It presents sample domestic relations orders pertaining to the standard methods of dividing retirement benefits due to community property – the Separation of Account (Model A) and the Time Rule Formula (Models B and C). These orders are based on the California Public Employee Retirement Law (PERL) and the California Family Code.

This publication is a companion to CalPERS publication 38A, A Guide to CalPERS Community Property. Publication 38A explains the PERL provisions for dividing CalPERS retirement benefits as community property. It also identifies the necessary court order notifications and other requirements that apply when CalPERS benefits are divided as community property.

This Order is acceptable under the Public Employees' Retirement Law ("PERL"), which is set forth at section 20000, et seq., of the California Government Code.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED BY THE COURT THAT:

4. This Order is entered pursuant to the California Family Code.

5. [Respondent or Petitioner] ("Member") and [Respondent or Petitioner] ("Nonmember Spouse") have acquired a community interest in the Member's accumulated retirement contributions and service credit attributable to periods of service in the System during the period from the

4 6. Pursuant to section 21290 of the California
5 Government Code, the Court allocates and awards to the 6 Nonmember 50% of the accumulated retirement contributions
7 and service credit attributable to the Member's service in 8 the System during the period from the Date of Marriage or 9 Date of Registration of Domestic Partnership up to the Date
10 of Separation ("System Interest") as the Nonmember's sole 11 and separate property. All accumulated retirement 12 contributions and service credit attributable to the 13 Member's service in the System not awarded to the Nonmember
14 pursuant to this Order shall be the Member's sole and 15 separate property.

16 7. Pursuant to section 21290(b) of the California
17 Government Code, the Administrator shall divide the Member's 18 accumulated retirement contributions and service credit in 19 accordance with Paragraph 6 of this Order and establish a

21 the Member and the Nonmember as soon as administratively
22 practicable after the Administrator determines that this 23 Order is acceptable under the PERL.

24 8. From and after the date that the Administrator has 25 divided the Member's accumulated retirement contributions
26 and service credit pursuant to Paragraph 7 of this Order,
27 the Nonmember shall be entitled to all applicable rights
28 permitted under section 21290(c) of the California
Government Code, including:

1 a. The right to a service retirement allowance,
2 including the right to elect an optional settlement and the 3 right to name a beneficiary, provided that the Nonmember is 4 otherwise eligible for such an allowance in accordance with 5 section 21295 of the California Government Code;

6 b. The right to a refund of that portion of the 7 Nonmember's System Interest which represents accumulated
8 Member retirement contributions in accordance with section 9 21292 of the California Government Code, including any 10 interest which has accrued on such contributions through the 11 date of payment;

2 Government Code;

3 e. The right to designate a beneficiary to 14 or her death shall be paid in accordance with section 21493

15 of the California Government Code.

16 10. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Order, 17 if the Member does not have the necessary minimum credited

21 immediately take the steps necessary to amend this Order to 22 comply with any such amendments, changes and/or 23 modifications, or, if permissible under any such change,
24 amendment, or modification to the PERL, the Administrator
25 may treat this Order as acceptable. The Member and the 26 Nonmember shall be responsible for any of the costs and/or 27 expenses associated with any such amendment.

28 21. The Member, the Nonmember, the Administrator, and the Court intend that this Order meets all requirements of a

1 domestic relations order under the PERL and other laws of 2 the State of California, and the Court shall reserve
3 jurisdiction to modify this Order for the purpose of meeting
