

Thankful for Your Service

We recognize California's public servants because your work matters to so many. Whether you protected our water supply, provided school transportation, built IT systems, or more, your career represents an integral part of our daily lives.

Many of our state's public servants and retirees are veterans as well. We honor your military service and feel fortunate you're part of our community.

This month we give thanks.

Saluting Our Veterans

How has your military service helped your public service career?

"Most of my time was spent overseas. My experiences working with different peoples and cultures taught me that we can only understand—and accept—one another if we connect on a person-to-person basis. I did my best to apply that concept in my public service career, as I still do now."

—Bill Madison, retired state employee, U.S. Air Force, NCO, 7.5 years
