I. Investment Compliance

A. Program Role & Scope

Introduction to Investment Compliance

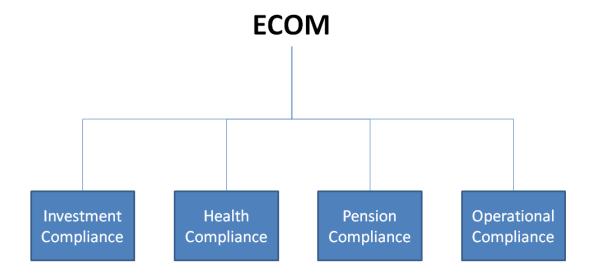

- In 2010, INVO developed a Risk Heat map and Target Operating Model (TOM)
 - Objective was to design, develop and implement a robust operating model that minimizes complexity, improves transparency and strengthens processes, systems and controls
 - The 2010 Risk Heat map and TOM initiative identified gaps in the INVO organization and a plan to address them
 - Two initiatives Investment Policy and Monitoring and Operational Risk Governance and Management – were identified as high priorities and were incorporated as Roadmap objectives for INVO

Introduction to Investment Compliance

- In September 2011, INVO established the Investment Compliance and Operational Risk (ICOR) Division to perform investment compliance and operational risk management functions within INVO
- ICOR created a compliance program to ensure CalPERS Investment Office maintains ongoing compliance with regulatory requirements modeled after best practices found at regulated external managers hired by CalPERS
- The establishment of ICOR exemplifies INVO's objective to promote an organizational culture that seeks to eliminate or mitigate compliance risks

Oversight Model

 Enterprise Compliance Division (ECOM) has an important oversight role over INVO and ICOR, just as they do over the other divisions and branches within CalPERS

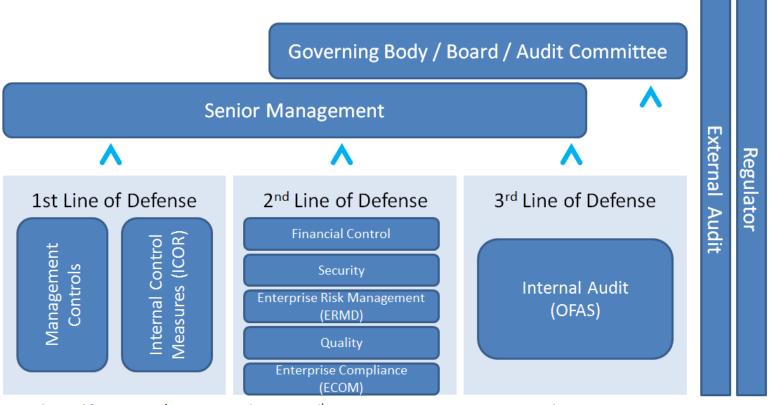

Oversight Model

 While ICOR is primarily responsible for investment-related compliance functions, ECOM has defined roles and responsibilities in providing oversight to INVO's activities and works collaboratively with ICOR

Cultivating a Risk Intelligent Organization through Effective Risk Management & Control

The Three Lines of Defense Model

Adapted from ECIIA/FERMA Guidance on 8th EU Company Law Directive, article 41

Managing Compliance Risk

- Compliance involves an assessment of legal, regulatory and operational risk
- An effective compliance program benefits performance and reputation
- Effective compliance requires a partnership and commitment among various stakeholders
- Managing compliance risk requires an investment in time, people and technology (e.g., personal trading system)
- Failure to manage compliance risk is often more costly (e.g., monetary losses, reputational risk, regulatory scrutiny)

Operating Principles

- ICOR's primary function is to support the Investment Office in implementing its strategic objectives while complying with applicable laws, regulations and policies
- Compliance is an organization-wide responsibility that is fundamental
- Management of compliance risk is best accomplished through application of compliance controls embedded into asset class practices and routines – First Line of Defense
- The program is built upon the working partnership between ICOR and INVO senior staff with input from Office of Enterprise Risk Management (OERM), ECOM, Legal Office (LEGO) and Office of Audit Services (OFAS)
- ICOR works with staff in fostering a proactive "getting compliance right the first time" approach
- CalPERS enterprise compliance function is managed through multiple channels and ICOR is expected to be aligned with CalPERS enterprise compliance structure
