

Health Plan Spotlight: Included Health

Overview

Included Health was founded in 2011 in San Francisco, California by Lawrence Hofmann and Owen Tripp. Included Health is an integrated healthcare provider that offers both in-person and virtual care. The company's mission is to improve global health through innovation and compassionate care. Included Health operates by offering a combination of virtual care, health navigation, and population health management services, using data-driven strategies. The company covers more than 6 million members across 130 employers.