

Attachment 3 – Presenter Biographies

Ed DeVaney, Executive Vice President and President
CVS Caremark

Ed DeVaney is executive vice president and president of CVS Caremark, CVS Health®. He leads the pharmacy services segment, which provides solutions to employers, health plans and government businesses and serves more than 88 million members through CVS Caremark, CVS Specialty® and other areas. Ed brings more than 25 years of health care and pharmacy benefit management experience to the role. Most recently, Ed served as president of employer and health plan sales and account management, where he was responsible for all new business sales and enhancing partnerships with existing customers. He also oversaw marketing and regulatory affairs.

Ed began his career at Hewitt Associates, focusing on health care consulting and benefits administration. He holds a master's in business administration from Wake Forest University, and a bachelor's degree in finance and marketing from Marquette University. He is a board member of 'A Kid Again', a non-profit that creates positive experiences for children with terminal illnesses at no cost to the families.

Michelle Gourdine, MD, Senior Vice President and Chief Medical Officer
CVS Caremark

Michelle Gourdine is senior vice president and chief medical officer for CVS Caremark, ensuring the quality and safety of our services and that our work is based on the continuous evaluation of scientific evidence. Gourdine's experience and passion for helping people improve their health, particularly the health of disadvantaged communities, advances our progress in medical affairs and our efforts to improve health care for PBM clients and members.

Previously, Gourdine was senior vice president, population health and primary Care, and interim chief medical officer at the University of Maryland Medical System. She is a clinical assistant professor in the departments of epidemiology and preventive medicine and pediatrics at the University of Maryland School of Medicine and senior associate faculty at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health. Gourdine earned her medical degree at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine before practicing community-based pediatrics. A nationally-sought-after speaker, she has also written the book, Reclaiming Our Health: A Guide to African American Wellness (Yale University Press).