Aparna Abburri, Executive Vice President, Population Health & Health Plan Services, Chief Executive Officer, Sutter Health Plan

As Executive Vice President, Population Health and Health Plan Services & CEO of the Sutter Health Plan, Aparna Abburri spearheads efforts to enhance Sutter's value-based care models that deliver data-driven, patient-focused solutions that improve health outcomes, expand access to care, and reduce costs for people and communities across California. She collaborates with medical groups, community independent physician groups, and Sutter's integrated care delivery teams through a clinically integrated network.

Aparna has nearly 25 years of healthcare experience, including executive roles at Cigna, Centene and UnitedHealth Group. She has a proven track record in profit and loss management, strategic growth across Medicare, Medicaid and commercial lines of business, mergers and acquisitions, business turnarounds and healthcare policy. She holds board and advisory positions with several healthcare organizations.

She earned an MBA from the University of Chicago and lives in the Bay Area with her family.

Robert Bixler, MD, Chief Medical Officer, Sutter Health Plan

Dr. Bixler, a practicing physician with Sutter Medical Group, serves as Chief Medical Officer for Sutter Health Plan. In this role he provides clinical leadership and medical expertise to the plan. Dr. Bixler is knowledgeable in evidence-based practice and supports population health initiatives and efforts to improve healthcare affordability. His continued work in direct patient care keeps him firmly connected to the patient experience, and his established relationships within the Sutter Health Network help facilitate healthcare navigation.

Dr. Bixler joined Sutter Medical Group in 2008 and is a practicing Board Certified Family Medicine Physician at Sutter Auburn Urgent Care. He previously served as Sutter Medical Group's Medical Director for Utilization Management in addition to other Medical Group leadership roles since 2013. He continues to actively participate in key committees and workgroups.

A California native, Dr. Bixler earned a Bachelor of Science at Colorado State University and completed his Doctor of Medicine at the University of Colorado School of Medicine before returning to California to complete his residency training in the Central Valley.

Peter Bergamo, Chief Growth Officer, Sutter Health Plan

Peter Bergamo leads the health plan's product, market positioning, sales, growth, and retention strategies. He previously served as the health plan's Interim CEO and prior to that as Vice President of Operations, where he drove initiatives focused on strategic growth and operational excellence. Before joining the health plan, Pete held key roles within Sutter Health's system strategy and business development team.

His background includes two decades of implementing strategy and overseeing operations in the healthcare and financial services industries. Pete previously worked in the affiliations and partnerships group at UCLA Health, and in the healthcare services management consulting practice at PwC in Los Angeles. Pete earned his bachelor's degree in economics from Northeastern University in Boston, Massachusetts, and a master's degree from the University of California, Los Angeles.
